

An Update from Andrew...

We have some great news to celebrate this week – Jillian Lee was baptized into Christ on Monday! It is always inspiring to see a father baptizing his child, and I know we are proud of Jillian’s decision. Be sure to let her know you are rejoicing with her!

Sack the Pulpit Day was Sunday, and it was encouraging to see how many people participated by bringing grocery bags full of food. While we weren’t here to see it firsthand, I saw the bags being brought in through the week. Give Away Day is coming up Saturday, and I hope you are making plans to be with us and help. There will be opportunities to help move items from the Give Away Day building to the church building as we set up for the day. If you haven’t already signed up to help, you can do that tonight or see Matt and Julie Bowling or Andrew and Katie Williams for details about when to help.

It is also important for us to keep in mind the opportunities we will have this weekend. On Saturday, our building will be filled with people, many of whom may be there for the first time. We have the opportunity to make a positive impression on them, and there is no telling what could happen as a result of simple conversation and getting to know people in our community. We also might talk to someone who is interested in learning more about God, and we have the chance to encourage future Bible study. Some of the people we meet on Saturday may return to worship on Sunday, so we need to be on the lookout for them. The same thing will be true during Trunk or Treat, as we meet new people in environments outside of a worship service. Getting to know them during those times could encourage them to worship with us or think more about spiritual issues. Let’s pray that God will use these opportunities to lead others to Him.

We missed worshipping with you on Sunday, though we enjoyed some good time with my family in Germantown. I am thankful to Tommy Gore and JD Schwartz for preaching two excellent messages on Sunday, and to Monte Tatom for sharing a great lesson with the Fellowship Hall Class. We are blessed with wonderful teachers at Graymere; let’s keep learning and growing together!
