

An Update from Andrew...

Sunday was a great chance to meet several guests we had in worship, and it was encouraging to watch Graymere members meeting new people, helping them find the right classroom, etc. It is always great to hear guests comment on how welcomed they have felt when worshipping with us, and that is due to your kindness. Let's keep it up!

You will notice in the bulletin as well as the Informer that several Bible classes have planned special get-togethers this month to enjoy time together. Christmas parties are always a good chance to get to know people better, and I am thankful to the teachers and volunteers from these classes who are planning these events. If your class does not have one planned, you may want to consider it.

Starting on Sunday, we will have sign-ups available for our Graymere Guys trip to see a Memphis Grizzlies game on January 21st. We will leave the church building at 9:00, have a BBQ lunch, visit Bass Pro at the Pyramid, and then head over to the Grizzlies game. The game doesn't begin till 4:30, which means we won't be back until 10:30 or so. That will be a late night for children in school, but in past years, several have managed to get some sleep on the bus on the way home. We have 30 tickets available for $35 each, and 16 tickets a few rows back for $25 each. This is a great time for a Father/Son or Grandfather/Grandson trip, and we always enjoy it!

These next few weeks will be busy, as we shop for presents and prepare to spend time with family and friends. While the holidays will not directly affect our worship schedule, we are planning to have a special schedule on December 30th. On that Sunday, we will have worship, a combined class, a fellowship meal, and then an afternoon worship service. One of the benefits of this schedule is that it will allow us to participate in the area-wide worship service held on Columbia Academy's campus at 5:00 that night. This service will be led from teens all over the Maury County area, and our own Caleb Nutt will be one of the speakers. I hope all who can will plan to be there; it is always good to encourage young men who are growing spiritually and serving through leading worship. Let's keep learning and growing together!
