

An Update from Andrew...

We have many reasons to rejoice over the last few days! Last Wednesday night, Jay Winchester put Christ on in baptism, and on Saturday, Madeline Hale made the decision to be baptized. I am thankful for their desire to serve God and for the example they set for the rest of us. Even though there was work being done in the auditorium, we made room for our number one priority – helping people follow Christ! We also had the privilege of praying a prayer of thanksgiving with Billy Mynes, as he came forward and shared the different ways God had blessed him throughout the last week. We are a family, and part of family life is sharing the valleys and mountaintop experiences together.

On Sunday, we introduced Sam Quirk as this summer's preaching intern. Sam grew up in Columbia, and many of you have already gotten to know him over the years. He has attended Future Minister Camp, Maury Christian Camp, and he has been an active member and worship leader for the Southgate congregation. Sam is currently wrapping up his junior year at Freed-Hardeman as a double major in Bible and psychology. He will be helping in many different ways this summer, both as a counselor and teacher for Future Ministers Camp, Maury Christian Camp, and Horizons, and also as an adult teacher in our Fellowship Hall class. He will be working with many different ministries in order to get a well-rounded perspective of local ministry.

By Sunday morning, we should be able to worship in our auditorium. As with any kind of renovation, we will need to be flexible in case something happens, but that is our plan. Since it is Mother's Day, we may have more guests than usual, and we will be excited to worship in our auditorium. Be on the lookout for new faces and be sure to introduce yourself. The renovations to our auditorium are designed to send people a message that we have prepared for their arrival; let's follow up on that initial message with personal contact.

We had another large group of volunteers who came to the building to move pews into the auditorium. It was encouraging to see how many pitched in to make that job possible. It was characteristic of the way so many people who come together in the last few months to make these changes possible. Our classes should also resume as usual on Sunday – thanks to all our teachers for adjusting their own schedules to make these changes work.

At the end of this month, our Future Minister Camp and Spiritual Growth Camp will begin. Be on the lookout for ways you can plug in and get involved. Also, don't forget that next Sunday afternoon, we will have a special event from 1-2:30 that seeks to honor our members who can no longer get out of the house and make it to a worship service. There has been a lot of preparation work done for this event, and I know you will be blessed if you can be part of it. We are a family that honors those to whom honor is due. Let's keep learning and growing together!
