

An Update from Andrew...

We are excited to welcome two new families to our church family! Sunday night, we welcomed Cindy Neal to Graymere. She has been worshipping with us for some time, and we are glad to have her as part of our congregation. We also welcome Brian and Rebekah Coggins to Graymere. They have three children: Hudson, Kinnley, and Cason. Brian works with Prestige Physical Therapy, and they have been worshipping with us for some time as well. I hope you will get to know both of these families.

Last week, a large group of our young people joined over 950 other teens for Horizons at Freed-Hardeman University. It was a great week, and Jon David did an excellent job as the assistant coordinator. It is a big responsibility, and he works hard to make this week of camp a good resource for teens. I always enjoy getting to be part of this event. Also, we want to remember Jon Winchester and Jeff Loveless in prayer as they are currently in India, working with several of the congregations we support. They will have the opportunity to travel to several places Graymere has not been able to visit over the years. I am thankful that as a congregation, we are determined to support our missionaries through spending time with them face to face.

On Saturday, our family will be traveling to Phoenix to spend a few days with the Salt River Church of Christ. I will be leading a teacher's workshop each night, from Sunday through Wednesday. Kathryn will also be working with the ladies there and helping them make visuals to use for class. Kathryn went there on a mission trip a few years ago, but I have never been there, and I am looking forward to it. On Sunday morning, Chris Elrod will be preaching. Chris has been working hard as our preaching intern this summer. He has worked as a counselor and teacher for three weeks of youth camps, taught adult Bible classes, and spoken in various other contexts, including the Sunday worship service at Morning Pointe and chapel for the Tennessee Children's Home. He worked hard on VBS, and he has been doing a great deal of study this summer. I know you will be blessed by his message. Chad Landman will speak on Sunday night, and he always does a great job. We will miss being with you, but we will look forward to being back with you the next week.
